JFreeChart

A free Java chart library. JFreeChart supports pie charts (2D and 3D), bar charts (horizontal and vertical, regular and stacked), line charts, scatter plots, time series charts, high-low-open-close charts, candlestick plots, Gantt charts, combined plots, thermometers, dials and more. JFreeChart can be used in applications, applets, servlets and JSP. This project is maintained by David Gilbert.

Orson Chart Beans

Orson is a collection of chart components developed according to the JavaBeans specification and backed by the popular JFreeChart library. Orson is aimed at Swing developers that want access to the core feature-set provided by JFreeChart, without the requirement to learn the intricacies of the JFreeChart API. This project is maintained by David Gilbert.

Eastwood Charts

Eastwood Charts is an independent and open source implementation of the Google Chart API, with charts rendered using JFreeChart. This project is maintained by David Gilbert.
